

TAWNEY FIGHTING TO DEAN SEAT

Powerful Opposition Is Now
Growing in Minnesota's District.

TARIFF MEASURE CAUSE OF TROUBLE

Handling of Bill Aroused Anger of Folks in the Gopher
State.

The war has just got fairly started up in the First Minnesota district, which "Jim" Tawney represents in the House. This is the word which reaches Washington from reliable quarters.

It is an open question whether Tawney will be able to survive politically. The able head of the Appropriations Committee is beset with powerful opposition, and the recent visit of President Taft to Winona and his endorsement of Tawney has failed to quell that opposition in any measure. Minnesota is noted for its independent voting and the call of party does not have an extremely strong influence in Tawney's district.

President Taft chose Winona as the place to defend the tariff bill and give Tawney some needed help. But the feeling that has been stirred up over tariff is strong and the opponents of the measure have not had their ardor checked. They hope to beat Tawney for the nomination, but if he is nominated he will have a fight to get himself elected. The district is a close one and in the last campaign Tawney was about 2,500 votes ahead of his Democratic opponent, Andrew French.

Tawney is devoting all his time to getting things shaped up in the district. He is fixing his political differences at every turn. He is making a number of speeches about the tariff bill in his speeches he is defending the tariff bill and saying it is a good measure.

It is this line of defense of his course in voting for the bill that is angering the tariff revisionists in his district. They say he is well aware that he is not a good one and that he is not frank in his explanation of why he voted for the measure. They say that Tawney was so tied up with the Cannon organization he could not do otherwise than vote for the bill, and that the wise course for him to take is to admit this was the case, and the bill was not such a one as merited his support but that he was impelled to vote for it for reasons connected with his position in the House Republican organization. Such an explanation, Tawney's opponents say, would be the truth and would be received by the voters with better grace than an argument that the bill is good.

Tawney is going to take no chances of defeat, and will conduct the most vigorous campaign he has ever conducted. The matter of staying in Congress is peculiarly appealing to him just now for the reason he sees the retirement of Mr. Cannon from the office of Speaker is not far distant. This is quite likely to be the last term for Mr. Cannon as head of the House. At any rate, there is a prospect that Tawney has long had him. He sees a possibility of these ambitious boys in the House in the next Congress, and he is peculiarly loath to give up his seat in the House at this time.

An important fact in the situation which is in Tawney's favor is that the Republican opposition is not a strong man, apparently, on which to unite for the purpose of keeping the nomination from Tawney. It is quite likely the Democrats will settle again on Andrew French, who ran against Tawney in the last Congressional election.

One of the sources of trouble for Mr. Tawney, aside from the tariff, is the row he got into with Roosevelt over the use of the name of William Lodge. Tawney has enabled his opponents to say that he is hostile to the Roosevelt policies. Another source of trouble is the opposition of some of the powerful tariff revision newspapers of the Northwest, especially Minneapolis and St. Paul, which circulate liberally in his district.

VIRGINIA DEMOCRATS RALLY AROUND MANN

STAUNTON, Va., Sept. 27.—Democrats of this State, especially in this locality, are today holding up the example set by Harry S. George Tucker, the defeated candidate in the recent primary for governor, who will tonight open the campaign with a speech favoring the election of Theodore Roosevelt and the regular Democratic State ticket. State Democrats say that the manner in which Mr. Tucker has fallen in line to work for the party in spite of the bitterness of the primary fight is evidence of the loyalty being exhibited by party members all over the State.

CINCINNATI SETS DAY FOR COMPLAINTS

CINCINNATI, Sept. 27.—"Kickers' day" is the latest innovation in municipal government. Mayor John Galvin has set Thursday as the day on which disgruntled citizens may appear at the city hall to register their complaints. The complaints in so far as number 550, and hear on all phases of municipal government.

ON NEW YORK G. O. P. TICKET

WILLIAM A. PRENDERGAST,
On Ticket for Comptroller.

OTTO BANNARD,
In Mayor's Race.

THE attempt to bring about an agreement among the friends of good government so as to eliminate partisanship in the approaching mayoralty campaign in New York has failed and the Republicans have nominated Otto Bannard as their candidate for mayor. It looks as though his opponent would be Judge Gaylor. Bannard is president of the New York Trust Company. He has never held any office except that of member of the board of education. William A. Prendergast, who is the candidate for comptroller on the ticket, is now register of Kings county. He has been a prominent speaker for the Republican ticket in past campaigns.

HENRY CABOT LODGE HAS TROUBLE AHEAD

Opposition to Him Among the Republicans in Home
State Grows to Serious Proportions—Democrats See Victory in Future.

By JOHN SNURE.

This summer has not been a reposing one for Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, the "scholar in politics," sometimes referred to as "the scholar of the Senate." Reports from Massachusetts are to the effect that Lodge's enemies are even more active than they were several months ago, when the news got out that they were organizing to defeat his return to the Senate.

It appears this anti-Lodge activity has been going on steadily. It has been emphasized by the recent legislative primaries in the Bay State. In Senator Lodge's own county the successful candidate is opposed to Lodge and is in favor of the election of Senators by popular vote.

This is not the year for the election of a Legislature which will pick a Senator. In Massachusetts the Legislature is elected annually and the one which will be chosen next year will elect the successor to Senator Lodge. But the anti-Lodge men are shaping things up steadily with reference to the selection of the Legislature and, where they can, are working in anti-Lodge measures.

Butler Ames Leader.
The leader in the anti-Lodge movement is Representative Butler Ames, the wealthy grandson of Gen. Benjamin F. Butler. Ames has been organizing the movement for months. He persists that his sole desire is to beat Lodge and that he is not making the fight solely because he wants to go to the Senate himself.

Just who will be settled on as the candidate on the Republican side against Lodge is not settled. Admirers of Representative McCall would like to see him become a candidate. It is thought doubtful, however, whether he will do so. Senator Crane is not in the contest openly, but the Lodge forces have all along feared he would quietly lend his influence to the anti-Lodge movement. Senator Lodge's private secretary has joined in the work at the Republican State central committee headquarters, and will, of course, overlook no opportunities to further his chief's interests.

Senator Lodge did yeoman service in the recent special session to get the duties fixed in the tariff bill in the way that New England wanted. But in spite of this there are plenty of dissatisfied Massachusetts voters who don't like the tariff law and don't like the course the Senator took.

But the real source of dissatisfaction with Lodge goes farther back than the special session. He has had a powerful machine, has run things with an iron hand, and has accumulated a large collection of enemies. Never a mixer, but inclined to be cold and aristocratic, he has not made friends except in more exclusive circles. On the other hand, the State of Massachusetts is proud to be represented by a man of Lodge's ability and accomplishments, and this is a strong factor in his favor in the coming contest.

Democrats Take Courage.
Massachusetts Democrats are taking courage and hope to manifest themselves strongly next year. They are trying to draw in the labor vote. The labor vote has been aligned with the Independence League, but that organization is down and out in Massachusetts. This year the Democrats will not make much of a fight to prevent the re-election of Gov. Eben Draper, but they hope to be in shape next year to make an effective fight. By that time it is expected some old sores of the labor element will have been healed. Moreover, many Democrats hope that by letting James H. Vahey run again this year for governor, he will be beaten and eliminated as a candidate who will have to be considered.

SAYS LIBERALS WILL WIN.
BRISTOL, Sept. 27.—James Keir Hardie, member of parliament for Merthyr Tydvil, outlining the policy of the laborites in the general election, said today that he believed the laborites would emerge from the conflict with a working majority. The laborites, he said, were confident of increased strength in the house of commons of from fifty-four members to between sixty-five and seventy.

EBERHART PLANS TO MANAGE FUNDS

Governor to Appoint Commission to Handle Money for Johnson Memorial.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Sept. 27.—Gov. Adolph O. Eberhart has announced that he will appoint a commission to concentrate the money now being collected under the general name of the "John Albert Johnson memorial fund." This commission, he said, will be appointed early this week. It will for the present at least be an unofficial body.

From town and city and from country home the dollars are rolling in that are to create for Minnesota's dead governor the memorial that no man in official position ever was closer to those of the simpler lives, is shown by the source from which the dollars come.

For, while the lists contain the names of men of means and an occasional name appears that stands for wealth, principally the contributors to the memorial fund are the working people. Total contributions sent the Tribune for the memorial fund up to this noon were $54,231. The fund in other cities of the State is also growing by leaps and bounds.

The idea has been projected, and is meeting with some approval, that the State start a Mrs. Johnson fund. The idea is that the State contribute not to exceed $10,000, or provide an annuity of $1,000, payable quarterly, during such time as Mrs. Johnson remains a widow.

POISON TURNED TO ITCHING ECZEMA

On Hands and Face—Torment Prevented Sleep—Sufferer Had to Give Up His Work—Specialists and "Cures" Utterly Failed.

IS CURED AND CALLS
CUTICURA WORLD'S BEST

"Three years ago, while a conductor, I was poisoned from the brass railings on the cars. I contracted salt-rheum or eczema on my hand. In wiping the perspiration from my face, I poisoned my nose and chin and was unable to shave. I had to give up my position and was treated by specialists, but to no avail. I tried every remedy I was told of and took so much medicine that I felt like a walking drug store. The doctors could only relieve me for a little while.

"One day I chanced to see a Cuticura advertisement and thought I would try the Cuticura Remedies, but I had no faith at the time as I had been deceived by so many so-called 'cures.' After three applications of Cuticura Ointment, the itching ceased and after using two boxes I was completely cured and shaving does not interfere with it what-soever. My nose is as clear as ever and I am now a well man both in body and mind. I consider the Cuticura Remedies to be the best in the world and I trust some poor sufferer will see this and be benefited thereby.

"I used Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills. I can also say the suffering was intense. It itched and burned so that it was impossible to sleep but thanks to the wonderful Cuticura Remedies I am now well. I enclose my photograph which you may publish. Harold Ayers, 233 Jefferson Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., Dec. 7 and 19, 1908."

For eczemas, rashes, itchings, irritations, inflammations and other unwholesome conditions of the skin and scalp and for the prevention of the same, as well as for the sanative, antiseptic cleansing of ulcerated, inflamed mucous surfaces and other uses which readily suggest themselves to women, Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, assisted when necessary by Cuticura Resolvent, are indispensable.

Sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole U. S. Mfrs., New York. Send for Cuticura Book, mailed free, tells all sufferers how to know about treatment and cure of hundreds of diseases of the skin and hair.
